CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

The Company operates within a comprehensive plan of corporate governance for the purpose of defining responsibilities, setting high standards of professional and personal conduct and assuring compliance with such responsibilities and standards. The Company regularly monitors developments in the area of corporate governance. In July 2002, Congress passed the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 ("Sarbanes-Oxley Act") which, among other things, establishes, or provides the basis for, a number of new corporate governance standards and disclosure requirements. In addition, the NYSE Amex has instituted corporate governance and listing requirements.

The Company has an Audit Committee consisting of Messrs. Lorber, Mann and Penner. The Company has determined that Mr. Lorber is a "Financial Expert" as defined by the rules promulgated under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics

We have also adopted a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics for directors, officers and employees of the Company. It is intended to promote honest and ethical conduct, full and accurate reporting and compliance with laws as well as other matters. Such Code of Business Conduct and Ethics can be found on the Company's website at www.unitedcapitalcorp.net and was filed as an exhibit to the Company's report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2006.

ITEM 11. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Company's chief executive officer, chief financial officer and other two executive officers are referred to below individually as the Named Executive Officer ("NEO") and collectively as the Named Executive Officers ("NEOs").

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

The philosophy of our Compensation and Stock Option Committee is to closely align compensation paid to executive officers with the achievement of the Company's annual and long-term performance goals. In establishing compensation for our NEOs, the following are the Compensation and Stock Option Committee's objectives:

- Setting levels of compensation designed to attract and retain superior executives in a highly competitive business environment;
- Providing incentive compensation that varies directly with the Company's financial performance and the impact of individual initiative and achievement of such financial performance;
- Linking compensation to elements which effect the Company's annual and long-term performance;
- Evaluating the competitiveness of executive compensation programs based upon information drawn from a variety of sources; and
- Establishing salary levels and bonuses intended to be consistent with competitive practice and level of responsibility, with salary increases and bonuses reflecting competitive trends, the overall financial performance of the Company, the performance of the individual executive and the contractual arrangements that may be in effect with the individual executive.

To achieve these objectives, our overall compensation program aims to pay our NEOs competitively, consistent with our success and their contribution to that success.

We have not retained a compensation consultant to review our policies and procedures with respect to executive compensation, although the Compensation and Stock Option Committee may elect to retain such a consultant in the future, if it determines that so doing would be helpful in developing, implementing or maintaining compensation plans.

The Compensation and Stock Option Committee annually reviews the aggregate level of executive compensation, as well as the mix of elements used to compensate our NEOs. In addition, the Compensation and Stock Option Committee has historically taken into account input from publicly available data relating to the compensation practices and policies of other companies within and outside our industry. The Compensation and Stock Option Committee considers our executive compensation versus the compensation paid by such peer companies. While such comparisons may not always be appropriate as a stand-alone tool for setting compensation due to the aspects of our business and objectives that may be unique, we generally believe that such information is an important part of our compensation-related decision-making process.

Although, generally, we believe that executive base salaries should be targeted taking into consideration the median range of salaries for executives in similar positions at comparable companies, we recognize that, to attract and retain superior key individuals, such as the NEOs, the Compensation and Stock Option Committee may determine that it is in our best interests to negotiate total compensation packages with our NEOs that may deviate from the general principle of targeting total compensation at the median level of our peers. The Company does not benchmark compensation against the compensation of other companies. Actual pay for each NEO is determined within this structure, driven by performance of the NEO over time, as well as our annual performance.

Employment Agreement

Due to Mr. Petrocelli's unique qualifications, and his position in the Company, we have an employment agreement with Mr. Petrocelli. We entered into an Amended and Restated Employment Agreement with Mr. Petrocelli dated as of November 17, 2003 (the "Employment Agreement"), providing for the employment of Mr. Petrocelli as Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer. The Employment Agreement provided a base salary and for the potential payment of bonuses, as determined by the Compensation and Stock Option Committee. Effective January 2006, the Compensation and Stock Option Committee determined that the base salary will be $800,000.

The bonus paid to Mr. Petrocelli, is based on, among other things, the Company's prior year performance and the Company's total revenue for the previous year. At the Company's 2009 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, the stockholders approved a proposal which provided that in any year that the total revenues of the Company exceed $50 million, the Chief Executive Officer would be entitled to receive a bonus. Since the Company's revenues exceeded $50 million for the year ended December 31, 2010, Mr. Petrocelli received a bonus. The Compensation and Stock Option Committee awarded a bonus of $800,000 to Mr. Petrocelli due to the strong operating performance of the Company in 2010.

Mr. Petrocelli's Employment Agreement contains non-competition, non-solicitation, and confidentiality provisions which apply for one-year after cessation of employment. In the event of a change of control of the Company, as defined in the Employment Agreement, we will pay Mr. Petrocelli a lump sum severance payment equal to three years salary and purchase outstanding options owned by Mr. Petrocelli. The Employment Agreement provides for successive one-year terms, unless either we or Mr. Petrocelli gives the other written notice that the Employment Agreement is terminated, and also provides a death benefit which the Company secures through an insurance policy.

Deductibility of Executive Compensation

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), prohibits a publicly held corporation, such as the Company, from claiming a deduction on its federal income tax return for compensation in excess of $1 million paid for a given fiscal year to the Chief Executive Officer (or person acting in that capacity) at the close of the corporation's fiscal year and the four most highly compensated officers of the corporation, other than the chief executive officer, at the end of the corporation's fiscal year. The $1 million compensation deduction limitation does not apply to "performance-based compensation." The Company believes that the bonus received by Mr. Petrocelli in 2011 for services rendered during 2010 is "performance-based" since the Company's revenues exceeded $50 million for the year ended December 31, 2010, which is the performance criterion the Company is required to achieve in order for the Chief Executive Officer to be eligible to receive a bonus, as approved by the Company's stockholders at the Company's 2009 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. In addition, the Company believes that any compensation received by executive officers in connection with the exercise of options granted under the Incentive and Non-Qualified Stock Option Plan (the "Plan") or the 1988 Joint Incentive and Non-Qualified Stock Option Plan (the "Joint Plan") qualifies as "performance-based compensation."

Termination or Change in Control

The only NEO that the Company has an employment contract with is Mr. Petrocelli. In the event of a change of control of the Company, as defined in the Employment Agreement, the Company shall pay Mr. Petrocelli a lump sum severance payment equal to three years salary at his current rate and purchase outstanding options owned by Mr. Petrocelli. The aggregate intrinsic value of the outstanding options owned by Mr. Petrocelli as of December 31, 2010 was approximately $29,383,000, which represents the difference between the Company's closing stock price on such date ($32.50) and the exercise price of each option, multiplied by the number of "in-the-money" options.

Retirement Benefits

The Company has a noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the “Pension Plan”) that covers substantially all full-time employees including the NEOs of the Company. The Company contributed $650,000 and $150,000 to the Pension Plan for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. The Company contributed approximately $550,000 to the Plan during the first quarter of 2011. Subject to compensation limitations under the Employee Retirement Security Act of 1974 which were $245,000 in 2010, benefits are computed as follows: For each year of credited service after June 30, 1989, the sum of one percent (1%) of annual compensation, as defined, up to $25,000 plus one and one-half percent (1 ½ %) of annual compensation in excess of $25,000. The Pension Plan, which provides defined benefits based on years of service and compensation level, was frozen in September 2009 ceasing the accrual of further benefits. As of December 31, 2010, each of our NEOs are fully-vested in the Pension Plan with a present value of accumulated benefits for Mr. Petrocelli, Mr. Lamoretti, Mr. Miceli, and Mr. Weinbaum in the amount of approximately $1,394,000, $38,000, $72,000, and $41,000, respectively.

The Company also has a Supplemental Retirement and Death Benefit Program (the “Supplemental Program”) which was terminated over ten years ago. All participants at that time retained their benefits under the plan. Messrs. Petrocelli and Miceli are included in this group. As of December 31, 2010, the net present value of Mr. Petrocelli’s and Mr. Miceli’s benefits under the Supplemental Program were approximately $134,000 and $52,000, respectively. Under the Supplemental Program, participants, upon death or retirement at the age of 55 or later, receive a supplemental benefit, as defined, in equal quarterly installments over a ten year period, as stated in the plan. Retirement benefits are proportionally reduced for early retirement prior to age of 65.

The Company provides most salaried employees with the opportunity to participate in a 401(k) Plan, which is a tax-qualified retirement savings plan under Section 401(k) of the Code. Eligible employees, who are 21 years of age and over, can participate on the first day of the calendar quarter following the date they have completed six months of service with the Company. Historically, the Company has not made matching contributions.

ITEM 13. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS, AND DIRECTOR INDEPENDENCE

The following sets forth the transactions involving the Company and its subsidiaries and its executive officers and/or Directors from January 1, 2010.

The Company has a 50% interest in an unconsolidated limited liability corporation, whose principal assets are two distribution centers leased to Kmart Corporation, which are accounted for as leveraged leases. Also participating in this transaction were Mrs. Petrocelli (the wife of Mr. Petrocelli, the Company's Board Chairman), Mr. Lorber and Mr. Penner, Directors of the Company, as well as Ms. Madaleine Berley (the wife of Mr. Penner), who together have approximately an 8% interest in this transaction. Mr. Petrocelli disclaims beneficial ownership of the participation interest held by his wife and Mr. Penner disclaims beneficial ownership of the participation interest held by his wife. Income on leveraged leases is recognized by a method which produces a constant rate of return on the outstanding investment in the lease, net of the related deferred tax liability in the years in which the investment is positive. Accordingly, although the Company received $777,000 in cash distributions from this investment, it did not record any income during the year ended December 31, 2010. Cash distributions from this investment to each of Mrs. Petrocelli, Mr. Penner, Ms. Berley, and Mr. Lorber were approximately $36,000, $26,000, $26,000, and $26,000, respectively, in 2010. Mrs. Petrocelli, Mr. Penner, Ms. Berley, and Mr. Lorber originally invested $275,000, $200,000, $200,000 and $200,000, respectively, in the transaction.

During 2009, the Company purchased a $5.0 million participation in a note (the "Participation") secured by a warehouse located in New York of which Mrs. Petrocelli holds a 20% interest. The Participation, which matures in July 2012, bears interest at 18% per annum payable monthly. During November 2010, the Company sold a 2.5% interest in its remaining share of the Participation to the Company's pension plan for $100,000.

The Company has Indemnity Agreements with certain directors (individually, each an "Indemnitee"), indemnifying each Indemnitee against the various legal risks and potential liabilities to which such individuals are subject due to their position with the Company, in order to induce and encourage highly experienced and capable persons such as the Indemnitees to continue to serve as Directors of the Company.

In April 2010, Messrs. Petrocelli, Lamoretti, Weinbaum, and Miceli exercised options to purchase 600,000, 66,000, 86,000, and 66,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock, respectively, at exercise prices ranging from $6.53 to $11.93 per share and sold such shares to the Company at a price of $24.60, which was the closing price of the Company's Common Stock on March 29, 2010. Also in April 2010, Mr. Mann exercised options to purchase 60,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock at an exercise price of $11.93 and sold such shares to the Company at a price of $22.90, which was the closing price of the Company's Common Stock on April 12, 2010. In addition, in May 2010, Mr. Lorber and Mr. Penner each exercised options to purchase 20,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock at an exercise price of $6.53 per share and sold such shares to the Company at a price of $22.70 per share, which was the closing price of the Company's Common Stock on May 26, 2010.

Director Independence

The Company has elected to be a controlled company pursuant to NYSE Amex rules. The Company is eligible to make this election because Mr. Petrocelli, the Company's Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer, beneficially owns more than 50% of the Company's outstanding stock. As a result of being a controlled company, the Company is not required to comply with the following corporate governance requirements of the NYSE Amex: (i) majority of independent directors, (ii) fully independent nominating committee, and (iii) fully independent compensation committee. While the Company currently has a fully independent compensation committee, it does not have a majority of independent directors or a fully independent nominating committee. As a result, the quality of Board oversight may be reduced as compared with companies which have a fully independent nominating committee and a majority of independent directors and the Company has a greater risk of conflicts of interest without these safeguards. In addition, the lack of an independent nominating committee increases the possibility that the Company will not have independent directors serving on the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors has determined that the following Directors of the Company are independent directors under NYSE Amex rules: Howard M. Lorber, Robert M. Mann, and Arnold S. Penner. As described above, the Company and Messrs. Lorber and Penner are involved in certain transactions. Notwithstanding such transactions, both Mr. Lorber and Mr. Penner are independent directors as such term is defined by NYSE Amex Rule 803(A) of the NYSE Amex listing standards.
